Excuses are in order for the work of Revelle against the Georgia University, when he was pounded for three runs. According to Arthur Irwin, Revelle was instructed to ease up, as the game was cinched by a 10 to 0 score. Revelle has lots of friends in Richmond. You know the kind. "Yes, Dutch is a mighty fine fellow, but—" and then follow a million reasons why he is not much pitcher.

Bunting, it seems, has made the mistake usually made by the youngsters. He set too fast a pace, and so found himself all stiffened up when it came time to play ball. Can't hold those boys in check, and then they have to suffer

As a matter of fact, any prophecy made about the youngsters at this stage of the game is pure guesswork. The veterans have by no means struck their stride, and won't until much later. Naturally all of the recruits show up well in comparison. Most of these recruits are playing just as good ball right now as they will at any time during the season. That's what makes them recruits.

Neither Milan nor Johnson has signed a contract yet. President Noyes is now down South trying to bring the recalcitrant two into line. Just' a question of money.

Talking of Walter Johnson, can any one imagine him letting himself out now, when summer weather prevails one day, with icicles forming the next? That's why he is a veteran.

A great many expert opinions are going up the rain spout to-night, when Packy McFarland, from the stock yards of Chicago, and Owen Moran. England's champion lightweight, mix it for ten rounds in New York.

A few of the dopesters in the big town are doubtful as to whether Packy or Moran, either or both, can fight bet-ter than Ad. Wolgast, the holder of the champ'onship.

Naturally there are many who will take the opinion of the fellows up North in preference to anything I might say, But here it goes, anyway.

Meran would probably be up against it if he took on Wolgast for a long fight, say, twenty rounds But Moran will outpoint Wolgast at any time in a six or ten-round affair.

McFarland is a better man than either Moran or Wolgast, although he may have some difficulty in proving it in a limit fight. That's going to be his trouble to-night with the Britisher, unless he manages to lace over one when the willy hoy from across the seas isn't looking.

But even should facky deliver a pass to slumberland it will not be conclusive, as he has agreed to weigh 125 at 7 o'clock to-night, which would not be the championship weight. Wolgast win, ning over the bane at 123, popularly accepted as the lightweight scale.

REGULATES PISTOL SALE

Pawnbrokers Opposed to Law Which Comes Up To-Night.

Strong efforts are being made by pawn-brokers to defeat the ordinance which comes up to-night in the Board of Aldermen for concurrence, prohibiting pawnbrokers from receiving for pawn, selling or offering for sale any pistol, dirk, razor or similar eapen.
The ordinance was introduced as the result

The ordinance was introduced as the result of a recent report of a grand jury of the Hustings Court, in which attention was called in most forcible terms to the growing practice of carrying concealed weapons by persons of uountful reputation, leading to frequent breaches of the peace and endangering the lives of citizens. The ordinance as adopted also regulated the sale of firearms by second-hand stores.

It was represented to the committee that the Police Department has little difficulty with those who buy from hardware stores, but that the vicious element gets its supply of arms and ammunition from the pawn-brokers and second-hand stores.

Pawnbrokers cay that the proposed law makes a discrimination against them in favor of hardware and sporting goods dealers, which is manifestly unfair. At police headquarters it is stated that the only alternative would be a law requiring the registration of all pistols and a daily report of such sales by all dealers, new and second-hand, to the Chief of Police.
